AFRILEX

31st International AFRILEX Conference

7 - 10 July 2027

PRESERVING HERITAGE THROUGH LEXICOGRAPHY

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

DEADLINE: 30 APRIL 2027

- INVITED
  Abstracts dealing with all aspects of lexicography and terminology, or the demonstrable implications or ramifications that research in related disciplines such as linguistics, computer and information science, etc. has for lexicography or terminology will be considered.

- IMPORTANT
  All submissions will be adjudicated.
  The conference language is English.
  The conference is to be held in-person.

- ABSTRACT FORMAT
  Abstracts should be formatted according to the template available on the AFRILEX website.
  Abstracts must be between 600 and 800 words long (including references) for adjudicators to make informed judgements on the central argument of the paper, especially given that conference proceedings are not published.

- PROCESS AND PROCEDURES
  Receipt of abstracts will be acknowledged, and timely feedback will be given to authors after adjudication of abstracts. Abstracts of accepted papers will be published in the physical abstract booklet and on the AFRILEX website. MS PowerPoint Presentation facilities will be available. Presenters are invited to e-mail their presentation to the organisers ahead of the conference.

- PLEASE NOTE
  Presenters of papers and special sessions must register before 7 May 2027.

- ABSTRACT PROCESSING COMMITTEE
  Drs. André H. du Plessis, Lorna Morris and Blanche Nyingone Assam

- DEADLINE FOR ABSTRACT AND PROPOSAL SUBMISSION
  Prospective presenters are to submit abstracts or session proposals to reach AFRILEX before 30 April 2027.
  Abstracts should be sent by e-mail to afrilex@afrilex.co.za.

ABSTRACT TEMPLATE

Please format your abstract according to the template available on the AFRILEX website. Abstracts that are incomplete or incorrectly formatted will be returned to the corresponding author. Please pay special attention to the format of citations and reference lists. Please only include sources cited in the abstract.
